

First Name	Alexander
Last Name	Deicke
Email	info@deicke.net

Country/Branche	Germany
Education	University degree Law & Economics
Professional experience in the field of privacy and data protection	Alexander holds a degree in data privacy law (university Münster) and works in the field of data privacy for 12 years now. He started in a legal interim management project back in 2008 by implementing the Federal Data Protection Act at a multinational computer security software company. In 2013 and 14 he implemented a data privacy department at an European Digital Publishing company. Since 2015 he and his company is acting as external data privacy officer for several multinational companies.
Personal quote, regarding added value of EADPP DPO certification	There is a free seat in the field of a representation of European data privacy experts. At the same time there is a need of a quality assurance of data privacy experts and especially officers in Europe. The same is true for EU-representative. Therefore I am sure that the certification is needed and could help to set European standards.
Short description of your contribution to the Certification Committee	His contribution to our Committee is sharing his vast knowledge and personal network in hands-on experience of GDPR accreditation and certification schemes.
Favorite privacy and data protection quote	It is not a question if data privacy is needed, the question should be would you like to live in a world without.
Relevant (data protection) ancillary positions	Certnex GmbH – Managing director K11 Consulting GmbH – Managing director
LinkedIn profile link	https://www.linkedin.com/in/ra-dr-alexander-deicke-mba-ll-m-pgde-cipm-80249211/
Other social media profile	