Personal quote, regarding added value of EADPP DPO certification	It is high time Europe has got a harmonized training program. There is perfect timing for existence of an Entity that will play serious part to homogeneity of the skills and knowledge of data protection and privacy professionals. Mutually, these professionals will have power and voice due to and through the existence of EADPP.

Short description of your contribution to the Certification Committee	From the first time I learnt about EADPP, a few months after being founded, I was confident that it is the unique and formal effort for the Data Protection & Privacy professionals to be protected and unified. I was very willing to assist and that's why I volunteered to organize the established Greek EADPP Branch, to be an elected member of EADPP Certification Committee, and work as intensively as it is needed for succeeding the goals and purposes of this Association for all Professionals.
Favorite privacy and data protection quote	“What then is the relationship of ethics and the law? From my perspective, ethics come before, during and after the law. It informs how laws are drafted, interpreted and revised. It fills the gaps where the law appears to be silent. Ethics is the basis for challenging laws.” — Giovanni Butarrelli
